PROCLAMATION

I, JEFF LEHMAN, Mayor of the City of BARRIE,

do hereby proclaim

March 21 to March 25, 2011

as

NATIONAL CO-OPERATIVE EDUCATION WEEK

- WHEREAS Georgian College is renowned for its co-operative education programs and for forging strong, working relationships with employers, locally and across Canada. At Georgian, co-op is a formal integral component of more than 49 programs; and
- WHEREAS Co-operative education is a practical learning process that benefits employers, students and the educational institutions alike. A proven educational strategy, co-op gives students a competitive edge in securing jobs in today's challenging marketplace; and
- WHEREAS In total, Georgian College deals with more than 6,000 employers locally, provincially, nationally and internationally; and
- WHEREAS In partnership with the Canadian Association for Co-operative Education, Georgian, together with other colleges and universities across Canada, will be celebrating the successes of our co-op students and graduates;
- THEREFORE I, Jeff Lehman, Mayor of the City of Barrie, do hereby proclaim March 21 to 25, 2011 as NATIONAL CO-OPERATIVE EDUCATION WEEK and the City of Barrie strongly supports Georgian College and its co-operative programs. I encourage the community to invest in co-op by finding out more about co-op programs, and considering hiring a student. Plan to the campus and talk to a co-op consultant to learn all the details.
